

Daniel J. Greenwood

Lecturer, MIT Media Lab

Current Research Topics:

- Using Information Technology to Support and Enhance Happiness and Fullfullment
 - Linked Research Project Coming Soon.
- Using Information Technology to Support and Reflect Large-Scale Democratic Decision Making
 - OpenGov: An Open Source Platform For Scalable Group Action
- Information Systems and Connectivity in the Car of the Future
 - Car++ of the Smart Cities Program
- Authentication and Identity Management (including federation and authorization)
 - White Paper and Other Writings and Recent Graduate Seminar in the Media Lab
- Electronic Government Systems and Applications
 - Linked Research and Upcoming Symposia Coming Soon
- Legal, Public Policy and Socio-Political Aspects of the Emerging Information Society
 - Linked Research Coming Soon

For prior research and teaching by Dan Greenwood at MIT, see the E-Commerce Architecture Site, at <http://ecitizen.mit.edu>

For more information about Daniel Greenwood is available in his bio.

To reach Daniel Greenwood, e-mail dang AT media DOT mit DOT edu
